

BENEFICIARY COMMUNICATION STANDARDS

The beneficiary is not a last-mile problem.

The beneficiary is a family member. A parent. A student. A sibling. Someone abroad cares deeply about them — and Mkono Global is how that care is being delivered. Every message we send to a beneficiary must reflect that. This guide covers every standard WhatsApp message the team sends to beneficiaries — before, during, and after execution.

THE BENEFICIARY STANDARD

"Every document they receive, every interaction with our team, every step of the process will treat them with the respect they deserve. We are delivering care, not just completing a task."

📄 HOW BENEFICIARY COMMUNICATION WORKS

The team sends three types of messages to beneficiaries: messages that accompany a formal document (delivery note or collection note), messages that check in during execution, and messages that respond to the beneficiary's confirmation after collection or delivery.

The formal document does the detailed work. The WhatsApp message that accompanies it is short, warm, and human — it prepares the beneficiary for what they are about to receive so the document does not arrive cold and confusing.

⚠️ IMPORTANT — WHAT THE BENEFICIARY MUST NEVER SEE

The beneficiary must never see item prices. The collection note and delivery note show quantities only — never amounts. No WhatsApp message to the beneficiary should mention the cost of any item. Prices are between Mkono Global and the client. Not the beneficiary.

Delivery Note Message

Sent with the delivery note PDF. Beneficiary is receiving items at their home or agreed location.

Send this message at the same time you send the delivery note PDF. The Mkono Global rider or team member is on the way. The beneficiary needs to know who is coming, what is coming, and what to do when it arrives.

Delivery Note Accompaniment Message

HUMAN — WITH DELIVERY NOTE PDF

Send this alongside the delivery note PDF when items are being delivered to the beneficiary's location. Personalise the name and the sender's name.

Habari [Beneficiary Name],

[Client Name] in [Client Country] has arranged a delivery for you through Mkono Global.

Your items are on the way. Please find the delivery note attached it lists everything you should receive.

When the rider arrives, check all items against the note before they leave.

If everything is correct, simply reply here: "Received everything all good." ✓

If anything is missing, let us know immediately and do not let the rider leave.

Mkono Global | WhatsApp: +1 555-854-0662

Why it works: Warm opening in Swahili — the beneficiary is in Kenya. Names the person who sent the delivery so it feels personal, not corporate. Clear instruction before the rider arrives. Simple action required after delivery.

PIN Collection Note Message

Sent with the PIN collection note PDF. Beneficiary collects from a supermarket using a PIN code.

Send this message at the same time you send the PIN collection note PDF. The beneficiary needs to know the PIN, the store, and exactly what to do. Keep it simple — the collection note PDF carries the detail. This message is the human introduction to it.

PIN Collection Note Accompaniment Message

HUMAN — WITH PIN COLLECTION NOTE PDF

Send this alongside the PIN collection note PDF for Naivas, Roadmap, or any supermarket PIN collection order. Fill in the name, store, and PIN.

Habari [Beneficiary Name],

[Client Name] in [Client Country] has arranged a collection for you through Mkono Global.

Your items are ready and waiting at [Store Name], [Location].

Your collection PIN is: [PIN NUMBER]

Go to the customer care desk, give them the PIN, and they will release your items. Please check everything against the attached note before you leave the store.

If everything is correct, simply reply here: "Received everything all good." ✓

If anything is missing, call us immediately before leaving.

Mkono Global | WhatsApp: +1 555-854-0662

Why it works: The PIN is prominent — it is the one thing the beneficiary must not miss. Step-by-step instruction in plain language. The formal collection note PDF carries the full list. This message makes sure the beneficiary arrives at the store knowing exactly what to do.

0 3

In-Person Collection Note Message

Sent with the collection note PDF. Beneficiary collects in person — no PIN needed. For example, 2 NK Sacco.

Send this message when items are being held at a collection point such as 2 NK Sacco Head Office and the beneficiary needs to go and collect in person. No PIN is involved. The beneficiary identifies themselves by name.

In-Person Collection Note Accompaniment Message

HUMAN — WITH COLLECTION NOTE PDF

Send this alongside the collection note PDF for in-person collection orders where no PIN is needed. Used for 2 NK Sacco and similar collection points.

Habari [Beneficiary Name],

[Client Name] in [Client Country] has arranged a collection for you through Mkono Global.

Your items are on the way to [Collection Point Name] in [Location].

You will receive a call from [Collection Point Name] when your items have arrived. Please pick up when they call.

When you go to collect, give your name at the desk and check all items against the attached note before you leave.

If everything is correct, simply reply here: "Received everything all good." ✓

If anything is missing, call us immediately before leaving.

Mkono Global | WhatsApp: +1 555-854-0662

Why it works: Prepares the beneficiary for the call from the collection point so they do not miss it or ignore an unknown number. No PIN — identification is by name. Same clear instruction for what to do after collection.

Responses to Beneficiary Confirmation

When the beneficiary confirms receipt — good or bad. The team responds immediately.

After delivery or collection, the beneficiary will send one of two types of confirmation. The team must respond to both immediately. These are not optional. The client in the diaspora is waiting for this confirmation before they receive their proof.

When Beneficiary Confirms Everything is Correct

HUMAN — RECEIPT CONFIRMED

Beneficiary has sent a confirmation that all items were received and everything is correct. Respond warmly and close the interaction professionally.

Asante [Beneficiary Name].

We are glad everything arrived safely.

This was arranged for you by [Client Name] in [Client Country]. We hope you enjoy it.

Why it works: "Asante" — Swahili for thank you — keeps the warmth consistent. Acknowledges the confirmation cleanly. Reminds the beneficiary that someone abroad cared enough to arrange this for them. That line matters. It protects the relationship between the client and their family member.

When Beneficiary Reports Something is Missing

HUMAN — ITEM MISSING — ACT IMMEDIATELY

Beneficiary has reported that one or more items are missing or incorrect. This is urgent. The team must respond within minutes — not hours. Do not let the beneficiary leave the store or collection point without resolution.

Asante [Beneficiary Name] for letting us know.

Please do not leave [Store/Collection Point] yet.

We are looking into this right now and will come back to you shortly.

If a store attendant or rider is still there, please keep them with you.

Why it works: Immediate acknowledgement so the beneficiary knows they were heard. Clear instruction — do not leave. Buys the team time to investigate without leaving the beneficiary in silence. Calm and professional even in an urgent situation.

⚠ AFTER A MISSING ITEM IS REPORTED — WHAT HAPPENS NEXT

- Step 1 : Team member contacts the rider, store, or collection point immediately.
- Step 2 : Establish what happened — was the item not packed, not available, or a quantity error?
- Step 3 : Update the beneficiary within five minutes with what was found and what will be done.
- Step 4 : Notify the client in the diaspora. They must be informed before proof is sent.
- Step 5 : If the item cannot be resolved immediately, begin the reconciliation process.

The beneficiary must never be left waiting without an update.

The Complete Beneficiary Communication Flow

THE BENEFICIARY STANDARD

The beneficiary did not choose Mkono Global. Someone who loves them did.

Every message we send them carries that love forward.

Warm. Clear. Dignified. Every time.

Not a promise. Evidence.
