

WHATSAPP COMMUNICATION STANDARDS

Every message is part of the Mkono Global experience.

This document contains every standard message the Mkono Global team sends to clients on WhatsApp. These are not templates to be adapted or improved on the spot. They are the Mkono Global voice — refined through real orders, real clients, and real conversations. Use them exactly as written.

01

Automated WhatsApp Messages

Configured in WhatsApp Business. Fires automatically. Team does not send these manually.

These two messages are configured directly in WhatsApp Business. They fire automatically — the team does not send them. Their job is to acknowledge the client immediately and set the tone before a human responds. They are the first thing every client sees from Mkono Global.

Greeting Message

AUTO — ALL HOURS

Fires immediately when any client sends their first message — day or night.

Welcome to Mkono Global.
We've received your message.
You send money home. We make sure it does what it was supposed to do.
Our team will reply shortly.
Not a promise. Evidence.

Why it works: Acknowledges immediately. Does not over-explain. Delivers the mission in one line. Promises a human response without committing to a specific time. Closes with the brand identity.

Away Message

AUTO — OFFLINE HOURS ONLY

Fires only when the team is offline. Configured for the hours when no team member is available to respond.

Welcome to Mkono Global.
We've received your message.
You send money home. We make sure it does what it was supposed to do.
Our team is currently offline and will respond as soon as business hours resume.
Not a promise. Evidence.

Why it works: Honest about timing without apologising. Tells the client their message arrived safely. "Business hours resume" is precise — it signals defined operating hours and a predictable response, without making a specific time promise.

First Human Response

The moment a real person takes ownership. This is where the relationship begins.

THE STANDARD — ONE HOUR. EVERY NEW CONVERSATION. EVERY TIME.

During operating hours, every new conversation must receive a human response within one hour. The automated greeting has one job: to acknowledge the client's message and set the tone. Your job is what comes next. When you take over a conversation, you are not continuing where the automation left off. You are beginning the human relationship. The client has been waiting for a real person. That moment matters.

Always introduce yourself using your real name. No exceptions. That is accountability made visible from the first second a human enters the conversation.

NEVER SAY THIS

"Thank you for contacting Mkono Global." — The automated greeting already said Welcome to Mkono Global. The human response should not reference the company name again. "Thank you for contacting" is the language of call centres. Mkono Global does not thank people for reaching out before knowing what they need.

When the Client Only Says "Hello" or "Hi"

HUMAN — FIRST RESPONSE

Use this when the client's first message contains no details about their request.

Hello [Client Name],
My name is [Your Name], and I'll be assisting you today.
How can I help you?

Why it works: A real name creates accountability — one person has taken ownership. "I'll be assisting you" signals a smooth transition from automation to a dedicated team member. Simple. Client-focused. No internal terminology.

When the Client Has Already Explained What They Need

HUMAN — FIRST RESPONSE

Use this when the client's first message already contains their request — even partially.

Hello [Client Name],
My name is [Your Name], and I'll be handling your request today.
I've reviewed your message. Give me a few minutes and I'll come back to you with the next steps.

Why it works: "Reviewed" signals the agent has already started thinking — not just noticed the message. Avoids asking the client to repeat themselves. "I'll come back to you with the next steps" is a specific commitment, not a vague reassurance.

03

Payment Instructions Message

Sent manually by the team every time an invoice is issued. Always accompanies the invoice PDF.

Invoice Payment Message

HUMAN — WITH INVOICE

Send this message every time you send an invoice. Always attach the invoice PDF alongside this message.

Your invoice is attached.

To pay, use whichever method works best for you. Many of our clients use Sendwave, Remitly, WorldRemit, Wise, M-Pesa, or bank transfer.

M-Pesa: +254 706 262 689

Bank Transfer: [Account Details]

Once you have paid, send us a screenshot of the confirmation here.

As soon as we verify payment, execution begins. Once your request is complete, you will receive verification and evidence.

Not a promise. Evidence.

Why it works: Starts with the invoice — not with the company. Gets to the point immediately. Lists the payment methods the client already trusts. One clear action required. Closes with the proof standard and the brand line.

04

Standard Follow-Up Messages

For clients who have not responded. Never pressure. Never guilt. Always leave the door open.

THE MKONO GLOBAL FOLLOW-UP PRINCIPLE

"Mkono Global never closes the door on a client because they became busy. We simply pause the conversation until they are ready to continue."

First Follow-Up — 24 Hours

HUMAN — DAY 1

Send 24 hours after the last message if the client has not responded.

Hello [Client Name],

We wanted to follow up on your request. Whenever you are ready, simply reply and we will be happy to continue.

Why it works: No pressure. No assumption about why they went quiet. One sentence. The client knows exactly what to do — reply — and exactly what will happen — we continue.

Second Follow-Up — 72 Hours

HUMAN — DAY 3

Send 72 hours after the last message if the client has still not responded.

Hello [Client Name],
We are just checking in. If you would like to continue, simply reply and we will pick up right where we left off.

Why it works: "Checking in" is neutral — no accusation, no urgency. "Pick up right where we left off" tells the client they do not need to start over or re-explain anything.

Final Follow-Up — 7 Days

HUMAN — DAY 7

Send 7 days after the last message. Place the conversation on hold in the OMS after sending.

Hello [Client Name],
Since we have not heard back, we will place this conversation on hold for now. Whenever you are ready, simply reply and we will be ready to assist.

Why it works: "On hold" — not closed. The client feels no guilt and no pressure. The door remains open indefinitely. A client who returns three months later should feel like they can pick up exactly where they left off.

05

Order Closing Messages

For completed orders and requests that cannot be executed.

NEVER SAY THIS

"Thank you for reaching out to Mkono Global." — Mkono Global does not thank people for reaching out. It softens what should be a direct, warm, professional message. Get to the point without preamble.

Order Completed and Evidence Sent

HUMAN — ORDER COMPLETE

Send after all evidence has been delivered to the client via WhatsApp.

Hello [Client Name],
Your request has been completed and the evidence has been sent to you.
If you ever need our help again, simply send us a message. We will be ready.

Why it works: References the proof — the most powerful thing Mkono Global just did. Ends on readiness, not gratitude. Leaves the relationship open without sentimentality.

Unable to Proceed

HUMAN — CANNOT EXECUTE

Send when a request has been assessed and cannot be executed. Always communicate this before taking any payment.

Hello [Client Name],
After reviewing your request, we are unfortunately unable to proceed at this time.
If your circumstances change or there is anything else we can help with, simply send us a message. We will be happy to assist.

Why it works: Direct and honest without being cold. Does not over-explain the reason. Leaves the door open for a different request or changed circumstances. The client never feels rejected — only honestly informed.

THE MKONO GLOBAL VOICE

Every message in this document was refined through real conversations with real clients.

They reflect who Mkono Global is — not who we want to be.

Use them exactly as written. The voice is consistent because the standard is consistent.

That consistency is part of what the client is paying for.

Not a promise. Evidence.
