

MKONO GLOBAL
EXECUTION AS A SERVICE

FOUNDATIONAL DOCUMENT

Mission. Vision. Core Values.

Not a promise. Evidence.

"We lived the problem first. We tested operations manually. We validated execution repeatedly. Now software will organise and scale what already works."

That is not a tagline. That is the mission, the vision, and all seven values compressed into two sentences.

Why We Exist

You send money home.

We make sure it does what it was supposed to do.

That is the mission. Two lines. Five seconds to understand.

This is not about moving money. Sendwave does that. Western Union does that. The problem was never the transfer — it was the silence after. The uncertainty. The prayer. The wondering.

Mkono Global exists for what happens after the money arrives. We are the verification layer. The proof layer. The accountability layer that the diaspora has never had — until now.

Where We Are Going

To end the 2am silence.

So that no African abroad ever has to send money home and pray that it reaches its purpose.

That is the vision. Not "become infrastructure." Not "become the trusted hand." Those describe a company. This describes a world that is different because Mkono Global exists.

The 2am silence — the lying awake, the math in your head, the wondering, the prayers — that is the enemy. The vision is to end it. Not reduce it. End it.

The pain is not only Kenyan. Every Nigerian in London knows it. Every Ghanaian in Toronto. Every Ethiopian in Washington. Mkono was born in the Kenyan diaspora — but the vision does not end there. It ends when no African abroad has to pray.

TODAY

Your sister's text — "nimepokea" — that IS the vision at work. One family. One moment. Zero silence.

NEAR TERM

Someone we have never met recommends Mkono to someone we have never spoken to. The trust spreads without us.

MEDIUM TERM

"Mkono it" enters the vocabulary. Not declared — earned. The way Google became a verb.

FULL VISION

A Nigerian in Houston. Medication to Lagos. A Ghanaian in London. School fees to Accra. The 2am silence ends for every African abroad.

03 — CORE VALUES

Seven Values. All Proven.

These are not aspirational values. Every one of them was extracted from a real decision made in a real order. They are not who we want to be. They are who we already are.

1

Proof, Not Promises

Every order ends with evidence — a photo, a receipt, a WhatsApp confirmation, a timestamped delivery note. The client in the USA never has to take our word for it. We do not ask for trust. We build it, order by order, proof by proof.

500+ orders. Every one with proof delivered. Zero unconfirmed executions.

2

Health Before Budget

When a health need arises — expected or not — we act first and reconcile second. We will never tell a sick person "that is not in the invoice." A KES 896 supplemental item was approved, purchased, and reconciled after delivery. That is not an exception. That is the standard.

The sister's eye exam. The unbudgeted medication. The KES 896 reconciliation invoice. All on record.

3

Every Shilling Accounted For

We do not round. We do not absorb. We do not pocket the difference. Every shilling spent is documented, every reconciliation is invoiced, every surplus is returned. The client's money is never casualty of convenience.

Reconciliation invoices issued for every order deviation. KES amounts verified to the last unit.

4

Verify Before You Pay

Every M-Pesa payment is verified against the business name before sending. We do not pay on assumption. We confirm the recipient, the account, and the amount before a single shilling moves. This is not extra effort — it is the minimum standard.

Zero misdirected payments. Ever. Across 500+ orders and six years of operations.

5

Reliability Over Speed

We do not promise same-day when three days delivers correctly. Speed that introduces error is not speed — it is a different kind of failure. The client chose Mkono Global because they need certainty. Certainty takes the time it takes.

The 3-day execution window is not a limitation. It is why the success rate is 100%.

6

Use What Already Works

We do not build infrastructure where none is needed. A supermarket in Nyeri already had the items. A KES 300 service fee was enough. No warehouse. No vehicle. No overhead. The city already has what the client needs — our job is to access it, verify it, and deliver the proof.

The Nyeri supermarket execution. KES 300 service fee. Zero infrastructure investment. 100% outcome delivered.

7

Protect the Relationship, Not Just the Transaction

The beneficiary is not a last-mile problem. They are a family member. A student. A patient. A parent. Every document they receive should feel like it was written for them — warm, clear, dignified. Every interaction should confirm: someone abroad cares deeply, and Mkono Global is how that care was delivered.

Delivery Notes sent before goods are packaged. Beneficiary confirms "everything matches." Dignity at every step.

04 — DECISION FILTER

The Four Questions

Before any significant decision — pricing, new service, new agent, new process — these four questions are asked. If any answer is No, the decision does not proceed.

Does this protect the proof standard?

Every execution must be verifiable. If a decision makes proof harder to deliver, it weakens the entire company.

Does this respect the beneficiary's dignity?

The person receiving care back home is not a delivery address. Every process must honour that.

Does this keep every shilling traceable?

If money moves through it, every unit must be accountable. No rounding. No absorption. No ambiguity.

Would we be comfortable if the client saw exactly what we did?

This is the final check. If the answer is anything other than Yes, the decision is wrong.

05 — APPLICATION

How to Use This Document

STAKEHOLDER	HOW THIS DOCUMENT APPLIES
Founders	This is the decision framework. When in doubt about direction, strategy, or a new idea — return to these pages.
New Team Members	Read this before your first order. Understand why we do what we do. The values explain every process you will be asked to follow.
Execution Agents	You represent these values in person, on the ground. Every action you take is either adding to or subtracting from the trust Mkono Global has built.
Technology Developer	The app organises what works — it does not replace human judgment with automation. Build to reinforce these values, not to shortcut them.
Future Investors or Partners	Read the values. If you want to change them, you are the wrong partner. These values are non-negotiable. They are why the company works.

"We did not set out to build a company. We set out to end a pain we could no longer live with. The company is what emerged. The vision is what remains: no more 2am silence. No more prayers. Just proof."

That is not a tagline. That is the mission, the vision, and all seven values compressed into two sentences.

Protect the trust. Protect the standard. Protect who we are.
